

ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

For websites, advertising, virtual assistants, automations, digital products, and client-provided materials.

Effective Date: 07/06/2026

1. Purpose

This Acceptable Use Policy applies to all services, websites, digital products, virtual assistants, automations, marketing campaigns, advertising services, content services, forms, communications, and systems created or managed by Judo Marketing.

2. Prohibited Uses

Clients may not use Judo Marketing services or deliverables for:

- Illegal, fraudulent, deceptive, misleading, or abusive activity.
- Phishing, impersonation, scams, identity theft, unauthorized access, credential collection, or malware.
- False advertising, unsupported claims, fake testimonials, fabricated reviews, or misleading pricing.
- Harassment, threats, hate speech, discriminatory content, or exploitation.
- Sexually explicit commercial content, human trafficking, illegal adult services, or exploitative content.
- Sale or promotion of prohibited products or services under applicable advertising platform rules.
- Unlawful collection, use, sale, or disclosure of personal information, protected health information, financial data, or children's data.
- Violation of HIPAA, healthcare advertising rules, professional licensing rules, privacy laws, consumer protection laws, or platform policies.
- Any use that could damage Judo Marketing's systems, reputation, vendors, platform accounts, client accounts, or legal compliance.

3. Regulated Industries

Clients in healthcare, ABA therapy, financial services, legal services, insurance, employment, housing, education, supplements, medical products, or other regulated industries are responsible for their own legal, licensing, advertising, consent, privacy, and disclosure requirements.

Judo Marketing may refuse or pause work that appears to create legal, ethical, platform, privacy, or professional compliance risk.

4. Client-Provided Materials

The client represents that it has the right to use any logos, images, videos, testimonials, reviews, claims, trademarks, text, music, fonts, data, client information, patient information, and other materials provided to Judo Marketing.

The client is responsible for claims, representations, offers, guarantees, discounts, licenses, credentials, testimonials, and statements about the client's business.

5. Platform Compliance

The client must comply with policies of third-party platforms, including advertising networks, website hosts, payment processors, email providers, SMS providers, social media platforms, domain registrars, CRM platforms, form tools, and software providers.

Judo Marketing may modify, reject, pause, or remove content that violates or may violate platform rules.

6. Enforcement

Judo Marketing may refuse service, suspend work, remove content, disable access, terminate subscriptions, or report unlawful activity if a client violates this Acceptable Use Policy or creates legal, security, ethical, platform, or reputational risk. No refund is owed for termination caused by client misconduct or prohibited use.
